WEATHER FORECAST.—Thursday Fair.

Hosiery for Men Women and Children.

SUCH VALUES RARELY SEEN

Women's Black Lace Hose 19c.

If Black Lace Hosiery like this could always sell for 19c, there'd be no use making 25c stockings.

It's only at intervals, however, that such opportunities come. Now all-over lace patterns, fast black and seamless—19c. pair.

Misses' Ribbed Lisle Hose 12-1-2c.

You can't get anything in town to equal these stockings for the money, because there's nothing made less than 19c. or 25c. to compare with them. Special lot of Ribbed Lisle Hose that we purchased—seamless and fast black—12-1-2c. pair.

Infants' Sox 10c. a Pair.

We're mightily enthused over this lot of Infants' Sox—so you'll be when you see the stockings.

New lace patterns, ribbed top and seamless, in white, black, pink and blue. All sizes 4 to 7-1-2, and without any doubt in our mind the best value at 10c. that's ever appeared in any Richmond store.

Men's 50c. Hose for 29c.

Imported "Fancy Lisle" Thread Hose, new patterns in grays, stripes and embroidered sides. Also great range of new embroidered patterns on black—50c. hose for 29c. pair.

Imported Fancy Gray Striped Hose, full fashioned, all 25c. values, for 19c. pair.

WROTE TO A MAN HERE

Mrs. Harper, Who Committed Suicide Here, Once Lived in Charlottesville.

WAS ALONE IN THE WORLD

Said She Had No Kin—Left Good Position to Come Here.

An interesting special to The Times-Dispatch relating to Mrs. Harper, who recently committed suicide here, was received from Charlottesville last night. "It has just been discovered here," the Charlottesville story runs, "that Mrs. Lulla B. Harper, the woman who committed suicide in the lake at Reservoir Park, Richmond, on May 15th, resided in this city prior to going to Richmond. Mrs. Harper, after spending two weeks in this city in search of employment, was engaged to nurse Mrs. R. A. Marshall, of Belmont. She remained with the family from September 23rd, 1903, until February 4th, 1904. "During her stay with Mrs. Marshall, who died on March 13th, Mrs. Harper was very reticent concerning herself. She stated to her employers in this city that she came from Roanoke, where she was engaged as a housekeeper. The only children of Roanoke she mentioned by name was Miss Ella Roberts. She said that she had no living relative, and the fact that she was alone in the world, or something else, seemed to be worrying her. "While at Mrs. Marshall's residence Mrs. Harper was known to have corresponded with a coal and wood dealer of Richmond. She said when she announced her intention of leaving that this gentleman had written her that he had secured for her a position as clerk in a confectionery store. "Mrs. Marshall advised her not to leave this city, but to remain as housekeeper, but Mrs. Harper insisted on going, saying that she thought the work as a clerk would be easier, and that her health was very bad. She seemed to desire a change. She knew nobody in Richmond save the man with whom she corresponded. "The next heard of Mrs. Harper here was that she had committed suicide in the Reservoir Park lake."

ARGUED A PATENT CASE.

Circuit Court of Appeals Thus Consumed the Entire Day.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals was occupied yesterday with legal arguments in the case of the local stopper company, of Baltimore, appellants, vs. the Crown Cola and Soda Company, appellees, from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals at Baltimore. The circuit court awarded a decree enjoining the infringement of the patent involved and returning the matter to a master for an accounting. The suit was brought in conformity with the opinion of a patent, Attorney Philip Mauro, of Washington, and Joseph J. France, of Baltimore, appeared for the appellants, and John A. Rose, of Baltimore, and R. H. Parkinson, of Chicago, for the appellees. Argued and submitted. The court handed down opinions in two cases, as follows: "Guid and Company, plaintiff in error, vs. Maria H. Pringle, administratrix, defendant in error; in error to the Circuit Court at Charleston, S. C., opinion by Judge McDowell, reversing the lower courts, with costs, and remanded the cause with directions to set aside verdict and grant new trial. "Phoenix Bridge Company, plaintiff in error, vs. James H. Castleberry, administrator, defendant in error; in error to the Circuit Court at Charleston, S. C., opinion by Judge McDowell, reversing the lower courts, with costs, and remanded the cause with directions to set aside verdict and grant new trial. "The cases were set for to-day, one from the Charleston S. C. and the other from the Circuit Court at Parkersburg, W. Va.

IN COMMISSION'S HANDS.

That Body Soon to Decide Interesting Transfer Case.

The hearing of the case in the matter of the application of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company to increase its rates over the Seven Pines line, which, if granted, means the discontinuance of the transfer system between that line and the electric lines of the State, was completed yesterday before the State Corporation Commission. Yesterday morning three more witnesses were placed upon the stand. They were Mr. F. J. Craig, Jr., general bookkeeper of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company and the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, who was put upon the stand by the defense for the purpose of showing that the line from Twenty-ninth and P Streets to Seven Pines is being operated at a loss. Dr. Collins and Mr. Albert Blencowe, who were put upon the stand by the plaintiffs, the case was then turned over to the counsel again for argument, and Mr. H. H. Pollard, the city attorney, spoke in behalf of the interests of the city of Richmond. The City Attorney was followed by Captain A. B. Guigon, counsel for the defendant companies. At the conclusion of the argument the court adjourned to take time to consider its action. In the preliminary hearing the case was argued by the court in the next few days, which will decide the question of whether the electric railway companies will continue to operate the line from the city lines good over the Seven Pines line.

Had a Delightful Time.

Miss Isabelle Walden has returned to the city after having spent the past week most pleasantly on the Eastern Shore, where she accompanied her brother, Mr. W. R. Walden, the Great Sachem of Virginia. A most delightful time was spent by the residents who did everything to contribute to the pleasure of the Red Men and their ladies.

LOOK INTO THE METHOD

Henrico Committee to Investigate Disturbance at Hardin's Shop Tuesday Night.

THE COMPLETE RETURNS

Solomon Gets Sixteen Delegates and Easley Five—One Precinct Against Primary.

Within the next few days an investigation will probably be instituted by the Henrico Democratic Committee into the election methods pursued Wednesday night at Hardin's Shop precinct, in the county.

As stated yesterday, the meeting developed a turbulent scene, which led to the retirement of the Easley party, who claimed that the election of delegates should be postponed until the registration books could be secured. The Solomon forces remained and named three delegates. Complaint has been made, and the attention to the county chairman has been called to the matter. The upshot of the whole thing will be an investigation by the committee. Many are freely declaring that the election was irregular.

"The committee," said Chairman Ruffin last night, "specifically provided that only qualified voters should participate in the meetings. It was the business of the precincts to be provided with lists of these voters, else it was impossible to determine who were or were not entitled to vote. The plan adopted at Howard's Grove, where everybody was allowed to vote upon the express understanding that the list of those so voting would later be compared with the list of qualified voters, was a wise one under the circumstances. Nothing of this sort was done at Hardin's Shop. The County Committee will certainly take some action if there were anything irregular in the meeting."

COMPLETE RETURNS. Complete returns from the county give Solomon sixteen delegates, including the three at Hardin's. Mr. Easley secured five. One precinct failed to hold a meeting. Eleven precincts instructed for the primary; three sent delegates unopposed; and one voted against the primary. The complete list is as follows:

Shumaker's—Delegates: R. M. Smith and W. R. Hooker for Easley, and Henry T. Hoppe for Solomon. Instructed for primary.
